ESG Policy

Overview
American Roads has made a formal commitment to Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) matters to become more sustainably responsible stewards of its assets. This commitment aligns with American Roads’ core values and is part of its strategy to maintain high-quality infrastructure assets that provide sustainable returns.

Guiding Principles
American Roads has agreed upon five guiding principles that are integrated into all aspects of its business. With each principle, key performance indicators (KPIs) have been set and monitored to ensure compliance with our commitment. The following principles drive our ESG strategy:

- Safety - Including the health & safety of workers, customers and surrounding communities
- Human Capital & Community - Including issues of training, diversity, labor rights, local employment, and charitable giving
- Environment - Including energy savings, waste, biodiversity, and water
- Governance - Including issues of board independence and conflicts of interest, management of ESG, bribery and corruption, and cybersecurity and related privacy protection
- Climate Resilience - Including climate risk management and preparation for extreme weather events

Implementation Framework
American Roads will implement this ESG policy across all of its assets, and complete the following procedures to assist with the governance of the policy:

- Assess compliance with applicable environmental, social and governance laws and regulations, and where possible, benchmarking ESG performance against relevant best practice standards
- Seek to share ESG best practices inside and outside our asset portfolio and engage with stakeholders reasonably across all of American Roads’ assets
- Encourage our offices to reduce, reuse and recycle waste and to implement energy-saving initiatives. Staff are also encouraged to volunteer their own time to support the transition to a low carbon economy
- Utilize the American Roads ESG indicator tracking tool to ensure company-wide compliance with ESG initiatives and KPIs governing American Roads and its assets
- Furthermore, American Roads is measuring its carbon footprint and offsetting it in order to reduce our carbon footprint where possible

ESG Committee
A cross-functional ESG Committee has been set-up to promote and oversee American Roads’ ESG initiatives and ensure reporting requirement compliance. The ESG Committee is accountable for American Roads’ ESG strategy, ensuring that ESG matters are addressed with key stakeholders and ESG is accounted for as a core value across all of its assets.

Stakeholder Communication
At American Roads, we focus on enhancing our companies’ competitive advantage, while safeguarding stakeholder interests. We are committed to reporting ESG risks to our key stakeholders and ensuring they are actively involved in the implementation of the ESG policy through appropriate training and information sharing.

Continuous Improvement
At American Roads, we offer ESG understanding and accountability throughout our entire portfolio. To ensure that we continue to conduct our due diligence and provide services at the highest level possible, American Roads is committed to reviewing the efficacy of its ESG Policy and strategy and being an industry leader in all ESG matters.
